

EVENT

Does the UK Have a Corruption Problem?

Hosted by Transparency International UK (TI-UK) at Cardiff University

Monday 12 March 2012 | 18:15 - 20:00 | Glamorgan Building, Cardiff University, CF10 3WA

---

18:15 | Drinks Reception and Registration

18:45 | Opening remarks by Chandu Krishnan, Executive Director of TI-UK

18:50 | Presentation by Professor Michael Macaulay

19:25 | Presentation by Professor Michael Levi

19:35 | Q&A and discussion

---

Recent events such as the phone hacking controversy and allegations of police misconduct have highlighted the fact that Wales, and the rest of the UK, is not immune to corruption.

Transparency International UK recently published the report 'Corruption in the UK' which revealed that corruption is a much greater problem in the UK than recognised and that the inadequate response has led to its growing threat.

You are invited to join TI-UK in Cardiff to discuss the findings of the report and what can be done to tackle corruption in Wales and beyond.

---

About Transparency International UK

Transparency International UK is the country's leading anti-corruption organisation and part of the global Transparency International (TI) movement. With colleagues working in more than 90 countries, TI has unparalleled global understanding and expertise.

Corruption in the UK

The 3-volume report – the most extensive study into UK corruption ever undertaken - examines 23 sectors and concludes that key institutions are refusing to confront the problem. Of particular concern are prisons, political parties, parliament and sport where the response to the increasing corruption risk is often incoherent and uncoordinated.

RSVP : events@transparency.org.uk

Read more about our work at www.transparency.org.uk